Lamborghini Calgary

At the top of a rise overlooking the southeast part of Calgary, on the city's Heritage Drive, sits a brand-new Lamborghini dealership, the fourth in Canada. At its official opening this past July, invited guests spent several hours mingling with Stephan Winkelmann, the president and CEO of Lamborghini worldwide, along with dealership owner Asgar Virji. The newly released Lamborghini LP 750-4 Superveloce was on display, along with several other models, including many vintage automobiles. In his address to the gathering, Winkelmann stated, "We are extremely happy with our results in Canada." And, Virji added, "We think of this as a fantastic auto club, where guests can come to talk cars, learn about new vehicles we will see in the near future, and share their passion for fine cars." If the opening night was any indication, there will be plenty of action in the days ahead.
